

The Little Girl of Rain

Alasdair Middleton

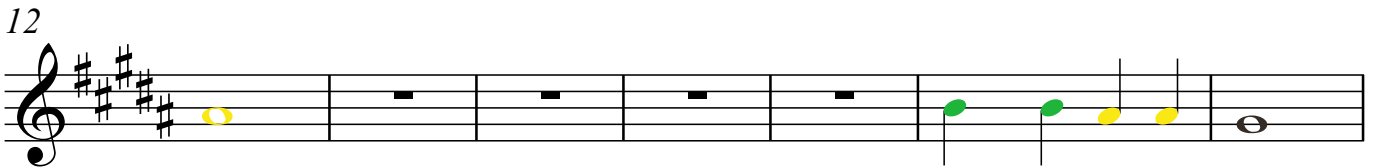

Jonathan Dove

The night is cold and dark.

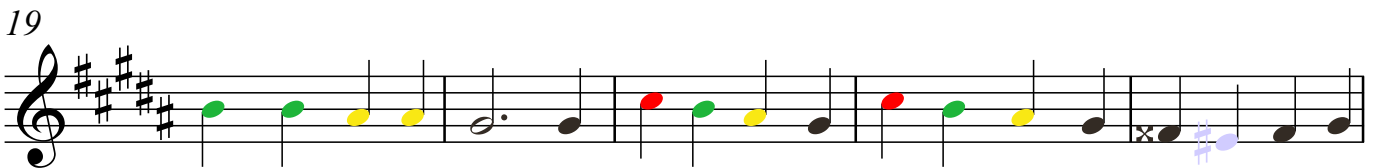

Here she is a - gain. Beg-ging me to let her in-The lit-tle girl of rain.

Scratch-ing on the sill

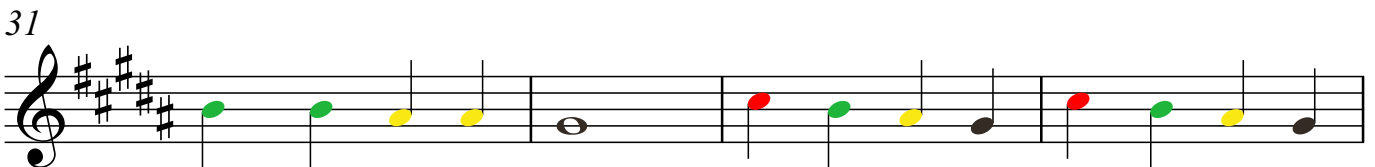

Tap-ping on the pane With her in-sis-tent fin-ger-nail The lit-tle girl of rain.

Her face is thin and pale

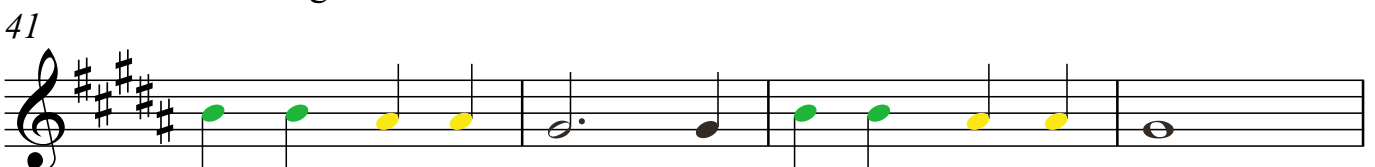

Pinched with cold and pain Whis-per-ing and whim-per-ing, The lit-tle girl of rain.

She

whis-pers words to me Which se-crets should re - main

45

Scratch-ing on the win-dow sill, The lit-tle girl of rain.

50

The night is cold and dark. Here she is a - gain. But I will ne - ver let her in - The 59

56

lit - tle girl of rain.

Music by Jonathan Dove

Lyrics by Alasdair Middleton

Music © 2016 Peters Edition Limited, London. Lyrics © 2016 Alasdair Middleton. All rights reserved.

Authorised Figurenotes transcription available for non-commercial usage only under licence from Peters Edition Limited, London.

This transcription is not available for sale.

Figurenotes © Kaarlo Uusitalo, 1996

Figurenotes applications © Markku Kaikkonen and Kaarlo Uusitalo, 1998

Transcribed by Drake Music Scotland, licensed to create Figurenotes products. Charity no: SC026908